The acquaintance thus happily consummated was formed while Mr. Davis was operator there.

Home Coming.

We were in hopes to have been able to give all the names and a sketch of their families of the Home Comers, from Van Wert county, whom are with us today but Secretary McCollough, of the organization informed us it was impossible to register them all, owing to the party splitting between travel by steam and electric cars. Our citizens met three south bound trains Wednesday evening, and a goodly crowd of about 200 came to Logan for the picnic and Reunion of today at Rempel's Grove. They were accompanied by the Sugar Grove band.

Unfortunately the weather man has kindly let the gentle rain fall in unbroken stream this morning and it looks very gloomy for the picnic. The local committee here were expecting 400 "comers" but the railroad misunderstanding seemed to muddle the matter and not so many came as was expected. However Logan extends a royal greeting to our kindly friends and visitors, and will try to show them a good time even if the weather is inclement.

Mayor's Court.

In the time of the ten-days outing of Mayor Dollison, the misdemeanors blossomed as the rose in Logan, and the village chief executive was compelled to return two days of last week to grind out some court. Ten cases in all were spread out upon his docket all having been disposed of up to date except one, who is at large.

Ye Poor Editor.

If an editor makes a mistake, he has to apologize for it, but if a doctor makes one he buries it. If the editor makes one, there is a lawsuit, swearing and the smell of sulphur, but if the doctor makes one, there is a funeral, and flowers and the smell of varnish. A doctor can use a word a yard long without knowing what it means, but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If a doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges for the visit, but if an editor goes to see another man's wife he gets a charge of buckshot. When a doctor gets drunk, it's a case of "overcome by heat" if he dies, it is heart trouble. When the editor gets drunk, it's a case of too much booze, and if he dies, it's a case of delirium tremens. Any old college can make a doctor. You can't make an editor; he has to be born.—Ex.

Death of Homer Pleukharp.

The news of the death of Homer Pleukharp, on Friday of last week came as a blow to his many friends in Logan, and vicinity. In his capacity as store-keeper at Cedar Grove, he was an often visitor to Logan and could name every person here whom knew him, as a friend. A few weeks ago he was taken sick with bowel trouble which resulted in inflammation, and the dread appendicitis took him off, with but a brief sickness.

The funeral services were held at Ebenezer church, on Sunday, under auspices of Tuscaloosa Tribe Red Men, of Logan, of which he was a member. Judge Wright received the impressive ritualistic service, assisted by fourteen red men of Logan and a strong representation of So. Bloomington.

Homer Pleukharp will be missed in this community. He was a good man and active in business circles. Peace to his ashes.

SPAIN SUSPICIOUS

Of All Foreigners Who Can Not Show Gilt-Edged Credentials.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Since the recent attack on the life of King Alfonso of Spain strict measures have been enacted to establish the nationality of foreigners visiting that country. The United States consul at Madrid, Madrid Semore, in a letter to the state department calls attention to the fact that Americans intending to travel in Spain should provide themselves with passports. Mr. Semore received a communication from the civil government at Madrid, a short time ago asking that all Americans residing in that city present themselves at the consulate and obtain a certificate as to their nationality. In some cases the Americans had passports, but many had no documents to prove their nationality, and it was with much difficulty that the status of such persons was established. Formerly it was held that all foreigners should have passports, but this was theoretical, and the regulation was not generally applied to persons residing in one place less than a week. Now the regulation will be enforced.

A struggle followed during which Louis Feltz of Milwaukee was shot 11 times, and may die. W. W. Hubbell, village marshal of Sparta, was stabbed six times and may die. As the train stopped at Sparta Feltz jumped from the car. After an encounter with the marshal of Sparta Feltz was arrested.

Death of Gus Floyd.

Augustus F. Floyd died at his home in the west end of Logan, Monday at the age of seventy-three years and six months. Mr. Floyd was born Dec. 13, 1832, in Emmetsburg, Maryland. In 1836, his parents removed to Ohio. He was educated in the common schools of the state. In early life he worked on the farm, and after attaining manhood taught school for several years. During the civil war he enlisted in the hundred day service, and on his return re-entered in the service of the United States. He was assigned to the 62 O. V. I. and served his country till the close of the rebellion, being present at Richmond at Lee's surrender. July 14, 1869, Mr. Floyd was united in marriage to Helen L. Lyman, at Logan, and lived near this place for the last thirty-seven years, pursuing his occupation as a farmer. He became a member of the M. E. Church at Smith's Chapel in 1875, and always endeavored to live a Christian life. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. F. Williams, at the home, Wednesday morning, and interment made in Oak Grove.

Mr. Floyd had the respect of all his neighbors. So far as he was able, he was always ready, with an open hand, to relieve the wants of any friend requiring his assistance. He bore his misfortune and suffering without a murmur or complaint. He is survived by his wife, his son John, five brothers, and three sisters.

Stricken with Paralysis.

The many Logan friends of Mr. Charles A. Monroe heard with regret the news of a second attack of paralysis suffered by that gentleman, Saturday, while at the Lancaster Camp Ground. Mr. Monroe was in Logan a few weeks ago, and subsequent to his first stroke, which had impaired his vocal organs. He and his family were at the Camp Ground last week, but Mr. Monroe was left almost alone Saturday, Mrs. Monroe having come to Logan for the day. His right side was affected, and the power of speech totally lost. His son, Ned Monroe, who was in Logan, Tuesday, stated that his father had sufficiently recovered to be able to walk about slightly, but needs constant attention. Mr. Monroe has the sympathy of this entire community in his affliction.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14, 1906.
Mr. J. B. Dollison,
Editor DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL.
Dear Sir,
As chairman of the reception to be tendered to Mr. Bryan, at Madison Square Garden, New York City, on the evening of Aug. 30th, I take pleasure in inviting you to be present. In extending this invitation I don't want to be understood as urging you to make the trip. There will, of course, be a big jam at the meeting, and the demand for tickets of admission will be overwhelming. My headquarters will be at the Gregorian Hotel, 35th Street near Fifth Avenue. If you will call on me there I will be very glad to make every effort to see that all the Ohioans who attend the meeting secure all the courtesies possible. My services in this respect will be at your command. I want all Ohioans to know that they will be most welcome. I wish you to feel that this invitation is broad enough to invite any of your friends who may desire to go.
Believe me to be,
Yours sincerely,
Tom L. Johnson.

"Colt Show."

S. S. Ruble wishes to notify the people of Hocking county, and all other counties—that may be so fortunate as to be in possession of a colt or horse sired by the late deceased Stallion "Alect" owned by S. S. Ruble, Logan, O.,—that on next Friday and Saturday morning, during the County Fair at Logan, August 22-25, Ruble will give a free colt and horse show for all colts sired by Alect and will have all colts divided in their different classes according to their age—from suckling to 6 year old, or the oldest get—each year's colts show in separate classes, but all to parade once round the track together, headed by 2 of stallion's sons, Alect, Jr., alias "Kid Logan" and Marks Alect. This will be a grand opportunity for everybody to show their colts before a good crowd of people, and may no doubt be the means of finding lots of good buyers for your horses at big prices, for people are falling over themselves trying to buy colts from Alect, and I guess nobody is ashamed to show the worst one Alect ever sired. There should be at least 100 head of horses shown at our County Fair by Alect, and I will give a prize of $5 in service fee from any of my stallions to each class, and there will be six or seven separate classes and the judges will be selected to award the premiums on that day. You can also show your colts and horses in their classes at the County Fair, if you wish, and get another prize or premium. Everybody come.

STAND PAT TEXT BOOK

For the Republican Campaign Is Approved by President.

SHERMAN SUBMITS PROOFS

Excerpts of Speaker Cannon's Speech At Danville Also Discussed at Political Conference at Sagamore Hill. Shonts Reports on What Is Doing In the Way of Canal Digging.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 14.—At an important political conference at Sagamore Hill, Congressman Sherman of New York, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, submitted to the president proofs of the party's new campaign text book for revision and approval, besides several arguments Speaker Cannon is to make in his convention speech at Danville, Ill. Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, who landed from Panama Aug. 11, informed the president of affairs on the isthmus. Joseph B. Bishop, secretary of the commission, came with Shonts and remained a guest of the president. Henry W. Taft of New York, brother of the secretary of war, was also a guest, as was Robert Bridges, the author, Representative Longworth, who is a member of the campaign committee, took part in the political discussion.

Chairman Shonts of the Isthmian canal commission said after his visit to the president that he gave the president a report up to date of the progress of canal work. The question of most importance confronting the commission, he said, is that of obtaining labor. "We shall advertise at once for 2,500 Chinese laborers in China," he said, "and give laborers of that nationality a thorough trial at the work. It has been represented to us that they will be more satisfactory than any class of laborers we have yet tried. The Jamaican negroes whom we have given an extensive trial have not proved satisfactory. The Spanish laborers we are working now to a great extent are very much better than the Jamaican negroes. We shall endeavor to have laborers of as many nationalities as we can get to work on the canal, as it is better than having a larger force of one nationality."

Chairman Shonts says that conditions on the isthmus are very much improved, and that both Secretary Taft and himself will go with the president when he makes his inspection of the work in November. When Representative Sherman left Sagamore Hill he said that while he had gone over the congressional campaign with the president thoroughly, the principal object of his visit was to review the campaign text book, which is to be issued next week. When Speaker Cannon, Mr. Sherman and other members of the congressional committee visited the president several weeks ago several matters to be handled in the text book were discussed in detail. Mr. Sherman said it was desirable to go over those matters again with the president before the book should be given to the public. He said the president approved of the way in which the matters were handled.

"The book will be a stand-pat document with word pictures of the record of the Republican party and reasons why that party should be kept in power," said Mr. Sherman. Mr. Sherman spoke appreciatively of the president's interest and assistance in the campaign. The outlook, he said, is good. "Of course," he remarked, "the Republicans are not going to retain all the seats they now have in the house, but we will remain in actual control of the Sixtieth congress. That we are sure of."
